Regulations will subsequently be drawn up providing for the refunding by the Empire of payments made by the French Government after June 10, 1920, either for the relief of persons who have been evacuated or in compensation for the billeting and quartering of troops or for requisitions made by the German authorities. The settlement of the account of the Reichsbank with the Central Bank of Strasburg shall also be provided for by subsequent regulations.

Subject to these conditions, no further claims shall be made on the German Government for repayment in accordance with Article 58 of the Treaty of Versailles.

Article 4.

The current debts of the Alsace-Lorraine Treasury incurred before November 11, 1918, which have not been settled when the present Convention comes into force, shall be borne by the French Government in cases where French nationals are concerned, and by the Empire where German nationals are concerned.
