The negotiations now proceeding with a view to settling the economic relations between France and Germany in as comprehensive a manner as possible, have hitherto failed, notwithstanding the efforts of the two Governments, to lead to any definitive results. The German and French Governments, being animated by the spirit in which the said negotiations were conducted, and desirous of manifesting their desire to bring them to a successful issue, have decided to meet the requirements of the Saar Territory, by granting it special facilities as has been done in the past, and have accordingly agreed upon the following provisions:

Article 1.

The Agreements concluded between Germany and France, and prolonged in virtue of the Protocol of February 16, 1927, and of the Supplementary Agreement to the Provisional Commercial Arrangement and to the economic arrangements concluded between Germany and France on March 31, 1927, namely:

(1) The agreement concerning the exchange of commodities between Germany and the Saar Territory of August 5, 1926; and

(2) The agreement of November 6, 1926, concerning the exchange of the products of certain German and Saar industries, together with the modifications specified under Sections II and III in List D of the above-mentioned Supplementary Agreement, shall remain in force.

The arrangements provided by the Exchange of Notes of March 18, 1927, and by the Protocol of March 31, 1927, relating thereto shall also remain in force.

Article 2.

If the Franco-German commercial agreement now in course of negotiation shall not have been concluded or ratified by July 31, 1927, the French Government shall be entitled to denounce the arrangements specified in the preceding Article, such denunciation to take effect as from August 31, 1927. Similarly, the French Government shall be entitled to denounce the said arrangements thenceforward at any time, such denunciation to take effect as from the end of the following month; the German Government shall have the same right of denunciation as from September 30, 1927.

Article 3.

For the duration of the Arrangement, the following provisions have been made in regard to quotas:

(1) Supplementary quotas in amounts corresponding to the duration of the previous agreements, shall be fixed for the months of July and August 1927. In consequence, the rationing period under the said agreements shall end on August 31, 1927.

(2) The supplementary quotas for the months of July and August 1927 shall therefore be fixed at two-sixths of the quotas stipulated under the Agreement concluded between Germany and France concerning the exchange of commodities between Germany and the Saar Territory, dated August 5, 1926, and at two-twelfths of the quotas specified in the Agreement between Germany and France of November 6, 1926, concerning the exchange of the products of certain German and Saar industries. These supplementary quotas shall be granted subject to the conditions laid down in the aforementioned agreements and arrangements, and without prejudice to the utilisation during the months of July and August of quotas previously fixed and not yet utilised.

(3) As from September 1, 1927, quotas shall be on a monthly basis, and calculated at the rate of one-half of the supplementary quotas laid down in paragraph II above. Parts of quotas not used by the parties concerned shall lapse, with the exception of those relating to the products dealt with in the Arrangement of November 6, 1926.
