

N° 1969.

GRÈCE ET SUISSE

Traité de conciliation et de règlement judiciaire. Signé à Genève, le 21 septembre 1925.

GREECE AND SWITZERLAND

Treaty of Conciliation and Judicial Settlement. Signed at Geneva, September 21, 1925.

¹ TRADUCTION. — TRANSLATION.No. 1969. — TREATY² OF CONCILIATION AND JUDICIAL SETTLEMENT BETWEEN GREECE AND SWITZERLAND. SIGNED AT GENEVA, SEPTEMBER 21, 1925.

French official text communicated by the Swiss Federal Council. The registration of this Treaty took place March 8, 1929.

THE SWISS FEDERAL COUNCIL and THE PRESIDENT OF THE GREEK REPUBLIC, desirous of strengthening the ties of friendship which exist between Switzerland and Greece, and of settling as far as possible, by way of conciliation or judicial settlement, any disputes which may arise between the two countries, have resolved to conclude a treaty for this purpose, and have appointed as their Plenipotentiaries :

THE SWISS FEDERAL COUNCIL :

M. Giuseppe MOTTA, Federal Councillor, Head of the Federal Political Department ;

THE PRESIDENT OF THE GREEK REPUBLIC :

M. Alexandre CARAPANO, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the Greek Republic in Paris ;

Who, having communicated their full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed as follows :

Article 1.

The Contracting Parties undertake to submit to a procedure of conciliation all disputes of any nature whatever which may arise between them and which it may not have been possible to settle within a reasonable time through the diplomatic channel.

In the event of the procedure of conciliation proving unsuccessful, a judicial settlement shall be sought in conformity with Articles 15 et seq. of the present Treaty.

The above shall not apply to disputes for the settlement of which a special procedure is laid down by other conventions in force between the Contracting Parties.

Article 2.

In the case of a dispute which, according to the domestic legislation of one of the Parties, comes within the jurisdiction of the Courts, the defendant Party may oppose the submission of the dispute to a procedure of conciliation or, if necessary, to judicial settlement, until a final judgment has been given by the competent judicial authority.

In this case the request for conciliation procedure must be made within a year at most from the date of such judgment.

Article 3.

The Contracting Parties shall establish a Permanent Conciliation Commission composed of three members.

Each Party shall nominate one member of its own choosing, the President being appointed by agreement between the Parties. The President may not be a national of the Contracting States nor be domiciled in their territory nor be employed in their service.

So long as the procedure has not begun, each Contracting Party shall have the right to revoke the appointment of its nominee and to replace him by another, and also to withdraw its consent to the appointment of the President. In this case, the necessary replacement shall be effected without delay.

Members shall be replaced under the same conditions as were observed in their appointment.

Article 4.

The Conciliation Commission shall be set up within six months after the ratifications of the present Treaty have been exchanged.

If the appointment of the President is not made within this period or, in case of his replacement, within three months after the vacancy occurs, he shall, failing agreement between the Parties and at the request of either of them, be appointed by the President of the United States of America, if the latter agrees thereto.

Article 5.

The task of the Conciliation Commission shall be to further the settlement of disputes by an impartial and conscientious examination of the facts and by formulating proposals with a view to settling the case.

The Commission shall be informed of a question by an application addressed to its President by one of the Contracting Parties.

This application shall be notified at the same time to the other Party by the Party which is requesting the institution of the procedure of conciliation.

Article 6.

In the absence of agreement to the contrary, the Conciliation Commission shall meet at the place chosen by its President.

Article 7.

In proceedings before the Conciliation Commission both Parties shall be heard.

The Commission shall draw up its own rules of procedure, regard being had to the regulations laid down in Part III of the Hague Convention of October 18, 1907, for the Pacific Settlement of International Disputes¹, unless the Commission unanimously decides otherwise.

Article 8.

The proceedings of the Conciliation Commission shall be private, unless the Commission decides otherwise in agreement with the Parties.

Article 9.

The Contracting Parties shall be entitled to appoint special agents on the Conciliation Commission. These agents shall also act as intermediaries between the Parties and the Commission.

Article 10.

The Conciliation Commission shall take its decisions by a majority vote of its members, except as otherwise laid down in the present Treaty.

Article 11.

The Contracting Parties undertake to give the Conciliation Commission all possible assistance in its work and, in particular, to employ all the means placed at their disposal by their domestic legislation to enable it to call and hear witnesses or experts within their territory, as well as to carry out investigations on the spot.

Article 12.

The Conciliation Commission shall make its report within six months from the day on which the dispute is submitted to it, unless the Contracting Parties agree to an extension of this period.

A copy of the report shall be sent to each Party.

The Commission's report shall not be in the nature of an arbitral award, as regards either the statement of facts or the legal considerations.

Article 13.

The Conciliation Commission shall fix the period within which the Parties will be required to take their decision as regards the Commission's proposals.

This period shall not, however, exceed three months.

Article 14.

For the actual duration of the procedure, the members of the Conciliation Commission shall receive an allowance to be fixed by an arrangement between the Contracting Parties.

Each Party shall bear its own costs and half the costs of the Commission.

Article 15.

If one of the Parties does not accept the proposals of the Conciliation Commission, or does not announce its decision within the period prescribed in the report, either Party may request that the dispute be submitted to the Permanent Court of International Justice.

If, in the opinion of the Court of Justice, the case is not of a juridical nature, the Parties shall agree to its being settled ex aequo et bono.

Article 16.

In each particular case the Contracting Parties shall draw up a special agreement (compromis) specifying clearly the subject of the dispute, the particular competence that might devolve upon the Permanent Court of International Justice, and any other conditions fixed between themselves.

The special agreement shall be constituted by an exchange of notes between the Governments of the Contracting Parties.

All points contained therein shall be interpreted by the Court of Justice.

If the special agreement is not drawn up within three months from the day on which one of the Parties was requested to submit the matter for judicial settlement, either Party may bring the question before the Court of Justice by a simple application.

Article 17.

Should the Permanent Court of International Justice find that a decision of a court of law or other authority of one of the Contracting Parties is wholly or partly at variance with international law, and should the constitutional law of that Party not allow, or only inadequately allow, the cancellation of the effects of this decision by administrative procedure, the Party prejudiced shall be granted equitable satisfaction in some other form.

Article 18.

The judgment given by the Permanent Court of International Justice shall be acted upon by the Parties in good faith.

Any difficulties regarding the interpretation of the judgment shall be settled by the Court of Justice upon a simple application for this purpose by either Party.

Article 19.

During the procedure of conciliation or the judicial procedure, the Contracting Parties shall abstain from all measures which might prejudicially affect the acceptance of the proposals of the Conciliation Commission or the execution of the judgment of the Permanent Court of International Justice.

Article 20.

Any disputes which may arise as to the interpretation or the execution of the present Treaty shall, in the absence of agreement to the contrary, be submitted direct to the Permanent Court of International Justice by simple application.

Article 21.

The present Treaty shall be ratified. The instruments of ratification shall be exchanged at Berne as soon as possible.

The Treaty shall come into force as soon as the instruments of ratification have been exchanged. It shall be concluded for a period of ten years from the date of its coming into force. Unless denounced six months before the expiration of this period, it shall be deemed to have been renewed for a further period of five years, and similarly thereafter.

If a procedure of conciliation or a judicial procedure is pending at the time of the expiration of the present Treaty, it shall pursue its course in accordance with the provisions of the present Treaty or any other convention which the Contracting Parties may have agreed to substitute therefor.

In faith whereof the Plenipotentiaries have signed the present Treaty.

Done in duplicate at Geneva, the twenty-first day of September one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five.
