Information privacy principles and codes of practice

Subpart 1—Information privacy principles

22 Information privacy principles

The information privacy principles are as follows:

Information privacy principle 1

Purpose of collection of personal information

- (1) Personal information must not be collected by an agency unless—
 - (a) the information is collected for a lawful purpose connected with a function or an activity of the agency; and
 - (b) the collection of the information is necessary for that purpose.
- (2) If the lawful purpose for which personal information about an individual is collected does not require the collection of an individual's identifying information, the agency may not require the individual's identifying information.

Information privacy principle 2

Source of personal information

- (1) If an agency collects personal information, the information must be collected from the individual concerned.
- (2) It is not necessary for an agency to comply with subclause (1) if the agency believes, on reasonable grounds,—
 - (a) that non-compliance would not prejudice the interests of the individual concerned; or
 - (b) that compliance would prejudice the purposes of the collection; or
 - (c) that the individual concerned authorises collection of the information from someone else; or
 - (d) that the information is publicly available information; or
 - (e) that non-compliance is necessary—
 - (i) to avoid prejudice to the maintenance of the law by any public sector agency, including prejudice to the prevention,

- detection, investigation, prosecution, and punishment of offences; or
- (ii) for the enforcement of a law that imposes a pecuniary penalty; or
- (iii) for the protection of public revenue; or
- (iv) for the conduct of proceedings before any court or tribunal (being proceedings that have been commenced or are reasonably in contemplation); or
- (v) to prevent or lessen a serious threat to the life or health of the individual concerned or any other individual; or
- (f) that compliance is not reasonably practicable in the circumstances of the particular case; or
- (g) that the information—
 - (i) will not be used in a form in which the individual concerned is identified; or
 - (ii) will be used for statistical or research purposes and will not be published in a form that could reasonably be expected to identify the individual concerned.

Information privacy principle 3

Collection of information from subject

- (1) If an agency collects personal information from the individual concerned, the agency must take any steps that are, in the circumstances, reasonable to ensure that the individual concerned is aware of—
 - (a) the fact that the information is being collected; and
 - (b) the purpose for which the information is being collected; and
 - (c) the intended recipients of the information; and
 - (d) the name and address of—
 - (i) the agency that is collecting the information; and
 - (ii) the agency that will hold the information; and
 - (e) if the collection of the information is authorised or required by or under law,—
 - (i) the particular law by or under which the collection of the information is authorised or required; and
 - (ii) whether the supply of the information by that individual is voluntary or mandatory; and
 - (f) the consequences (if any) for that individual if all or any part of the requested information is not provided; and
 - (g) the rights of access to, and correction of, information provided by the IPPs.

- (2) The steps referred to in subclause (1) must be taken before the information is collected or, if that is not practicable, as soon as practicable after the information is collected.
- (3) An agency is not required to take the steps referred to in subclause (1) in relation to the collection of information from an individual if the agency has taken those steps on a recent previous occasion in relation to the collection, from that individual, of the same information or information of the same kind.
- (4) It is not necessary for an agency to comply with subclause (1) if the agency believes, on reasonable grounds,—
 - (a) that non-compliance would not prejudice the interests of the individual concerned; or
 - (b) that non-compliance is necessary—
 - (i) to avoid prejudice to the maintenance of the law by any public sector agency, including prejudice to the prevention, detection, investigation, prosecution, and punishment of offences; or
 - (ii) for the enforcement of a law that imposes a pecuniary penalty; or
 - (iii) for the protection of public revenue; or
 - (iv) for the conduct of proceedings before any court or tribunal (being proceedings that have been commenced or are reasonably in contemplation); or
 - (c) that compliance would prejudice the purposes of the collection; or
 - (d) that compliance is not reasonably practicable in the circumstances of the particular case; or
 - (e) that the information—
 - (i) will not be used in a form in which the individual concerned is identified; or
 - (ii) will be used for statistical or research purposes and will not be published in a form that could reasonably be expected to identify the individual concerned.

Information privacy principle 4

Manner of collection of personal information

An agency may collect personal information only—

- (a) by a lawful means; and
- (b) by a means that, in the circumstances of the case (particularly in circumstances where personal information is being collected from children or young persons),—

- (i) is fair; and
- (ii) does not intrude to an unreasonable extent upon the personal affairs of the individual concerned.

Information privacy principle 5

Storage and security of personal information

An agency that holds personal information must ensure—

- (a) that the information is protected, by such security safeguards as are reasonable in the circumstances to take, against—
 - (i) loss; and
 - (ii) access, use, modification, or disclosure that is not authorised by the agency; and
 - (iii) other misuse; and
- (b) that, if it is necessary for the information to be given to a person in connection with the provision of a service to the agency, everything reasonably within the power of the agency is done to prevent unauthorised use or unauthorised disclosure of the information.

Information privacy principle 6

Access to personal information

- (1) An individual is entitled to receive from an agency upon request—
 - (a) confirmation of whether the agency holds any personal information about them; and
 - (b) access to their personal information.
- (2) If an individual concerned is given access to personal information, the individual must be advised that, under IPP 7, the individual may request the correction of that information.
- (3) This IPP is subject to the provisions of Part 4.

Information privacy principle 7

Correction of personal information

- (1) An individual whose personal information is held by an agency is entitled to request the agency to correct the information.
- (2) An agency that holds personal information must, on request or on its own initiative, take such steps (if any) that are reasonable in the circumstances to ensure that, having regard to the purposes for which the information may lawfully be used, the information is accurate, up to date, complete, and not misleading.
- (3) When requesting the correction of personal information, or at any later time, an individual is entitled to—

- (a) provide the agency with a statement of the correction sought to the information (a statement of correction); and
 - (b) request the agency to attach the statement of correction to the information if the agency does not make the correction sought.
- (4) If an agency that holds personal information is not willing to correct the information as requested and has been provided with a statement of correction, the agency must take such steps (if any) that are reasonable in the circumstances to ensure that the statement of correction is attached to the information in a manner that ensures that it will always be read with the information.
- (5) If an agency corrects personal information or attaches a statement of correction to personal information, that agency must, so far as is reasonably practicable, inform every other person to whom the agency has disclosed the information.
- (6) Subclauses (1) to (4) are subject to the provisions of Part 4.

Information privacy principle 8

Accuracy, etc, of personal information to be checked before use or disclosure

An agency that holds personal information must not use or disclose that information without taking any steps that are, in the circumstances, reasonable to ensure that the information is accurate, up to date, complete, relevant, and not misleading.

Information privacy principle 9

Agency not to keep personal information for longer than necessary

An agency that holds personal information must not keep that information for longer than is required for the purposes for which the information may lawfully be used.

Information privacy principle 10

Limits on use of personal information

- (1) An agency that holds personal information that was obtained in connection with one purpose may not use the information for any other purpose unless the agency believes, on reasonable grounds,—
- (a) that the purpose for which the information is to be used is directly related to the purpose in connection with which the information was obtained; or
 - (b) that the information—
 - (i) is to be used in a form in which the individual concerned is not identified; or

- (ii) is to be used for statistical or research purposes and will not be published in a form that could reasonably be expected to identify the individual concerned; or
 - (c) that the use of the information for that other purpose is authorised by the individual concerned; or
 - (d) that the source of the information is a publicly available publication and that, in the circumstances of the case, it would not be unfair or unreasonable to use the information; or
 - (e) that the use of the information for that other purpose is necessary—
 - (i) to avoid prejudice to the maintenance of the law by any public sector agency, including prejudice to the prevention, detection, investigation, prosecution, and punishment of offences; or
 - (ii) for the enforcement of a law that imposes a pecuniary penalty; or
 - (iii) for the protection of public revenue; or
 - (iv) for the conduct of proceedings before any court or tribunal (being proceedings that have been commenced or are reasonably in contemplation); or
 - (f) that the use of the information for that other purpose is necessary to prevent or lessen a serious threat to—
 - (i) public health or public safety; or
 - (ii) the life or health of the individual concerned or another individual.
- (2) In addition to the uses authorised by subclause (1), an intelligence and security agency that holds personal information that was obtained in connection with one purpose may use the information for any other purpose (a secondary purpose) if the agency believes on reasonable grounds that the use of the information for the secondary purpose is necessary to enable the agency to perform any of its functions.

Information privacy principle 11

Limits on disclosure of personal information

- (1) An agency that holds personal information must not disclose the information to any other agency or to any person unless the agency believes, on reasonable grounds,—
- (a) that the disclosure of the information is one of the purposes in connection with which the information was obtained or is directly related to the purposes in connection with which the information was obtained; or

- (b) that the disclosure is to the individual concerned; or
 - (c) that the disclosure is authorised by the individual concerned; or
 - (d) that the source of the information is a publicly available publication and that, in the circumstances of the case, it would not be unfair or unreasonable to disclose the information; or
 - (e) that the disclosure of the information is necessary—
 - (i) to avoid prejudice to the maintenance of the law by any public sector agency, including prejudice to the prevention, detection, investigation, prosecution, and punishment of offences; or
 - (ii) for the enforcement of a law that imposes a pecuniary penalty; or
 - (iii) for the protection of public revenue; or
 - (iv) for the conduct of proceedings before any court or tribunal (being proceedings that have been commenced or are reasonably in contemplation); or
 - (f) that the disclosure of the information is necessary to prevent or lessen a serious threat to—
 - (i) public health or public safety; or
 - (ii) the life or health of the individual concerned or another individual; or
 - (g) that the disclosure of the information is necessary to enable an intelligence and security agency to perform any of its functions; or
 - (h) that the information—
 - (i) is to be used in a form in which the individual concerned is not identified; or
 - (ii) is to be used for statistical or research purposes and will not be published in a form that could reasonably be expected to identify the individual concerned; or
 - (i) that the disclosure of the information is necessary to facilitate the sale or other disposition of a business as a going concern.
- (2) This IPP is subject to IPP 12.

Information privacy principle 12

Disclosure of personal information outside New Zealand

- (1) An agency (A) may disclose personal information to a foreign person or entity (B) in reliance on IPP 11(1)(a), (c), (e), (f), (h), or (i) only if—
- (a) the individual concerned authorises the disclosure to B after being expressly informed by A that B may not be required to

- protect the information in a way that, overall, provides comparable safeguards to those in this Act; or
- (b) B is carrying on business in New Zealand and, in relation to the information, A believes on reasonable grounds that B is subject to this Act; or
 - (c) A believes on reasonable grounds that B is subject to privacy laws that, overall, provide comparable safeguards to those in this Act; or
 - (d) A believes on reasonable grounds that B is a participant in a prescribed binding scheme; or
 - (e) A believes on reasonable grounds that B is subject to privacy laws of a prescribed country; or
 - (f) A otherwise believes on reasonable grounds that B is required to protect the information in a way that, overall, provides comparable safeguards to those in this Act (for example, pursuant to an agreement entered into between A and B).
- (2) However, subclause (1) does not apply if the personal information is to be disclosed to B in reliance on IPP 11(1)(e) or (f) and it is not reasonably practicable in the circumstances for A to comply with the requirements of subclause (1).
- (3) In this IPP,—
- prescribed binding scheme means a binding scheme specified in regulations made under section 213
- prescribed country means a country specified in regulations made under section 214.

Information privacy principle 13

Unique identifiers

- (1) An agency (A) may assign a unique identifier to an individual for use in its operations only if that identifier is necessary to enable A to carry out 1 or more of its functions efficiently.
- (2) A may not assign to an individual a unique identifier that, to A's knowledge, is the same unique identifier as has been assigned to that individual by another agency (B), unless—
 - (a) A and B are associated persons within the meaning of subpart YB of the Income Tax Act 2007; or
 - (b) the unique identifier is to be used by A for statistical or research purposes and no other purpose.
- (3) To avoid doubt, A does not assign a unique identifier to an individual under subclause (1) by simply recording a unique identifier assigned to the individual by B for the sole purpose of communicating with B about the individual.

- (4) A must take any steps that are, in the circumstances, reasonable to ensure that—
- (a) a unique identifier is assigned only to an individual whose identity is clearly established; and
 - (b) the risk of misuse of a unique identifier by any person is minimised (for example, by showing truncated account numbers on receipts or in correspondence).
- (5) An agency may not require an individual to disclose any unique identifier assigned to that individual unless the disclosure is for one of the purposes in connection with which that unique identifier was assigned or is for a purpose that is directly related to one of those purposes.

41 Urgency

- (1) A requestor may ask that an IPP 6 request be treated as urgent (an urgent IPP 6 request).
- (2) A requestor making an urgent IPP 6 request must state the reason why the request should be treated as urgent.
- (3) On receiving an urgent IPP 6 request, an agency must consider the request and the reason stated for its urgency when determining the priority to be given to responding to it.

Compare: 1993 No 28 s 37

42 Assistance

An agency must give reasonable assistance to a person who—

- (a) wishes to make an IPP 6 request; or
- (b) is making an IPP 6 request.

Compare: 1993 No 28 s 38

43 Transfer of IPP 6 request

- (1) This section applies if an agency that receives an IPP 6 request—
 - (a) does not hold the information to which the request relates, but believes that the information is held by another agency; or
 - (b) believes that the information to which the request relates is more closely connected with the functions or activities of another agency.
- (2) The agency must promptly, and in any case not later than 10 working days after the day on which the IPP 6 request is received, transfer the request to the other agency and inform the requestor accordingly.
- (3) However, subsection (2) does not apply if the agency has good cause to believe that the requestor does not want the request transferred to another agency.
- (4) If, in reliance on subsection (3), the agency does not transfer the request, the agency must promptly, and in any case not later than 10 working days after the day on which the IPP 6 request was received, inform the requestor that—
 - (a) this section applies in respect of the request; and
 - (b) in reliance on subsection (3), the request has not been transferred; and
 - (c) the name of the agency to which the request could be transferred.

Compare: 1993 No 28 s 39

44 Responding to IPP 6 request

- (1) If an agency does not transfer an IPP 6 request under section 43, the agency must, as soon as is reasonably practicable, and in any case not later than 20 working days after the day on which the request is received, respond to the request.
- (2) A response must notify the requestor that—
 - (a) the agency does not hold personal information in a way that enables the information to be readily retrieved; or
 - (b) the agency does not hold any personal information about the individual to whom the request relates; or
 - (c) the agency does hold personal information about the individual to whom the request relates and, if access to the information has been requested, that—
 - (i) access to that information, or some of that information, is granted; or
 - (ii) access to that information, or some of that information, is refused; or
 - (d) the agency neither confirms nor denies that it holds any personal information about the individual to whom the request relates.

45 Decision to grant access to personal information

- (1) If an agency grants access to personal information, the notice under section 44(2)(c)(i) must state—
 - (a) the way the information is to be made available; and
 - (b) the charge (if any) payable under section 66 in respect of the request, and whether all or part of that charge is required to be paid in advance; and
 - (c) the requestor's right to make a complaint to the Commissioner about the charge that is payable (if any).
- (2) After giving notice under section 44(2)(c)(i) and receiving any charge required to be paid in advance, the agency must make the information available to the requestor.

Compare: 1993 No 28 s 40(1), (2)

46 Decision to refuse access to personal information

- (1) An agency may refuse access to the personal information requested, or some of the personal information requested, only if the agency is able to rely on any of sections 49 to 53 (see also section 24).
- (2) The notice given under section 44(2)(c)(ii) must state—
 - (a) the reason for the refusal; and
 - (b) the requestor's right to make a complaint to the Commissioner in respect of the refusal.
- (3) The notice must also state the grounds in support of the reason for the refusal if—
 - (a) the reason is that set out in section 50; or
 - (b) the reason is not that set out in section 50, but the requestor has requested disclosure of the grounds.
- (4) However,—
 - (a) subsection (3)(a) does not apply if disclosing the grounds would prejudice the interests protected by section 50;
 - (b) subsection (3)(b) does not apply if disclosing the grounds would prejudice the interests protected by any of sections 49, 51, and 53;
 - (c) subsection (3)(b) does not apply if disclosing the grounds would prejudice the interests protected by section 52 and the reason for not disclosing those grounds is not outweighed by other considerations that make it desirable, in the public interest, to disclose them.

Compare: 1993 No 28 ss 30, 44

47 Decision to neither confirm nor deny personal information is held

- (1) An agency may neither confirm nor deny that it holds the personal information, or some of the personal information, requested if the agency—

 - (b) is satisfied that the interest protected by any of those provisions would be likely to be prejudiced by the agency confirming whether or not it holds information about the requestor.
- (2) The notice given under section 44(2)(d) must inform the requestor of the requestor's right to make a complaint to the Commissioner in respect of the agency's response.

Compare: 1993 No 28 s 32

48 Extension of time limits

- (1) On receiving an IPP 6 request, an agency may extend the time limit set out in section 43 or 44 in respect of the request if—
 - (a) the request is for a large quantity of information, or necessitates a search through a large quantity of information, and meeting the original time limit would unreasonably interfere with the operations of the agency; or
 - (b) consultations necessary to make a decision on the request are such that a response to the request cannot reasonably be given within the original time limit; or
 - (c) the processing of the request raises issues of such complexity that a response to the request cannot reasonably be given within the original time limit.
- (2) Any extension under subsection (1) must be for a reasonable period of time having regard to the circumstances.
- (3) The extension is effected by giving notice of the extension to the requestor within 20 working days after the day on which the request is received.
- (4) The notice effecting the extension must—
 - (a) specify the period of the extension; and
 - (b) give the reasons for the extension; and
 - (c) state that the requestor has the right to make a complaint to the Commissioner about the extension; and
 - (d) contain any other information that may be necessary.

50 Evaluative material as reason for refusing access to personal information

- (1) An agency may refuse access to any personal information requested if—

 - (ii) that was to the effect that the information or the identity of the person who supplied it, or both, would be held in confidence; or
 - (b) the information is evaluative material that was made available by the agency to another agency, and that other agency may refuse to disclose the information under paragraph (a).
- (2) In this section, evaluative material—

 - (b) be likely to unreasonably prejudice the commercial position of the person who supplied the information or who is the subject of the information.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply if, in the circumstances of the particular case, the withholding of that information is outweighed by other considerations that make it desirable, in the public interest, to make the information available.

Compare: 1993 No 28 s 28

53 Other reasons for refusing access to personal information

An agency may refuse access to any personal information requested if—

- (2) If information is withheld under subsection (1), the agency must inform the requestor of—

 - (b) the requestor’s right to make a complaint to the Commissioner in respect of that decision.
 - (3) The agency must also disclose to the requestor the grounds in support of the reason for the decision to withhold the information if—

 - (e) by giving, in any manner, an excerpt or a summary of the document’s contents; or

- (f) by giving oral information about the document's contents.
- (2) Subject to section 55, the agency must make the information available in the way preferred by the requestor unless to do so would—

 - (b) be contrary to any legal duty of the agency in respect of the document; or
 - (c) prejudice an interest protected by any of sections 49 to 53.
- (3) If the information is not provided in the way preferred by the requestor, the agency must give to the requestor—

 - (b) if the requestor so requests, the grounds in support of that reason.
- (4) However, subsection (3)(b) does not apply if disclosing the grounds would prejudice an interest protected by any of sections 49 to 53.

 - (i) was caused by a person inside or outside the agency; or
 - (ii) is attributable in whole or in part to any action by the agency; or
 - (iii) is ongoing.

- (2) For the purposes of this subpart, the meanings of access, disclosure, and loss are not limited by the use of those words or the meanings ascribed to them elsewhere in this Act.

113 Assessment of likelihood of serious harm being caused by privacy breach

When an agency is assessing whether a privacy breach is likely to cause serious harm in order to decide whether the breach is a notifiable privacy breach, the agency must consider the following:

- (a) any action taken by the agency to reduce the risk of harm following the breach:
- (b) whether the personal information is sensitive in nature:
- (c) the nature of the harm that may be caused to affected individuals:
- (d) the person or body that has obtained or may obtain personal information as a result of the breach (if known):

- (2) If it is not reasonably practicable to notify an affected individual or each member of a group of affected individuals, the agency must instead give public notice of the privacy breach, unless an exception in section 116 applies or a delay is permitted under section 116(4).
- (3) Public notice must be given—
 - (a) in a form in which no affected individual is identified; and
 - (b) in accordance with any regulations made under section 215(1)(a).
- (4) If subsection (2) or an exception in section 116 is relied on, the agency must notify the affected individual or individuals at a later time if—
 - (a) circumstances change so that subsection (2) or the exception no longer applies; and
 - (b) at that later time, there is or remains a risk that the privacy breach will cause serious harm to the affected individual or individuals.

- (5) A failure to notify an affected individual or give public notice under this section may be an interference with privacy under this Act (see section 69(2)(a)(iv)).

116 Exceptions to or delay in complying with requirement to notify affected individuals or give public notice of notifiable privacy breach

- (1) An agency is not required to notify an affected individual or give public notice of a notifiable privacy breach if the agency believes that the notification or notice would be likely to—

- (3) If subsection (2) applies, the agency must—
- (a) consider whether it would be appropriate to notify a representative instead of the individual (if a representative is known or can be readily identified); and
 - (b) before deciding whether to notify a representative, take into account the circumstances of both the individual and the privacy breach; and
 - (c) if the agency decides it is appropriate to notify a representative and has identified a representative, notify that person.
- (4) An agency may delay notifying an affected individual (or a representative) or giving public notice of a notifiable privacy breach (but not delay notifying the Commissioner) only—
- (a) if the agency believes that a delay is necessary because notification or public notice may have risks for the security of personal information held by the agency and those risks outweigh the benefits of informing affected individuals; and

- (b) for a period during which those risks continue to outweigh those benefits.
- (5) An agency may rely on an exception, or delay in notifying affected individuals or giving public notice, under this section and, in relation to a delay, do so for the period referred to in subsection (4)(b), only if the agency believes on reasonable grounds that the exception applies, the ground for delay exists, or the circumstances referred to in subsection (4)(b) (relating to the period of delay) continue to exist.
- (6) In this section,—
 - health practitioner has the meaning given to it in section 49(2)

Information matching rules

ss 177, 178, 189

1 Notice to individuals affected

- (1) Agencies involved in an authorised information matching programme must take all reasonable steps (which may consist of or include public notification) to ensure that the individuals who will be affected by the programme are notified of the programme.
- (2) Nothing in subclause (1) requires an agency to notify any individual about an authorised information matching programme if to do so would be likely to frustrate the objective of the programme.

2 Use of unique identifiers

Except as provided in any other enactment, unique identifiers may not be used as part of any authorised information matching programme unless their use is essential to the success of the programme.

3 Technical standards

- (1) The agency primarily responsible for the operation of an authorised information matching programme must establish and maintain detailed technical standards to govern the operation of the programme.
- (2) The technical standards established by an agency in accordance with subclause (1) must deal with the following matters:
 - (a) the integrity of the information to be matched, with particular reference to—
 - (i) key terms and their definition; and
 - (ii) relevance, timeliness, and completeness:
 - (b) the matching techniques to be used in the programme, with particular reference to—
 - (i) the matching algorithm;
 - (ii) any use of unique identifiers;
 - (iii) the nature of the matters being sought to be identified by the matching process;
 - (iv) the relevant information definitions;
 - (v) the procedure for recognising matches:
 - (c) the controls being used to ensure the continued integrity of the programme, including the procedures that have been established to confirm the validity of matching results:

- (d) the security features included within the programme to minimise and audit access to personal information, including the means by which the information is to be transferred between agencies.
- (3) The technical standards established in accordance with subclause (1) must be incorporated in a written document (in this clause, a Technical Standards Report), and copies of the Technical Standards Report must be held by all agencies that are involved in the authorised information matching programme.
- (4) Variations may be made to a Technical Standards Report by way of a Variation Report appended to the original report.
- (5) The agency that prepares a Technical Standards Report must forward a copy of that report, and of every Variation Report appended to that report, to the Commissioner.
- (6) The Commissioner may at any time direct that a Technical Standards Report be varied, and that direction must be complied with by the agency that prepared the report.
- (7) Every agency involved in an authorised information matching programme must comply with the requirements of the associated Technical Standards Report (including any variations made to the report).

4 Safeguards for individuals affected by results of programmes

- (1) The agencies involved in an authorised information matching programme must establish reasonable procedures for confirming the validity of discrepancies before an agency seeks to rely on them as a basis for action in respect of an individual.
- (2) Subclause (1) does not apply if the agencies concerned consider that there are reasonable grounds to believe that the results are not likely to be in error, and in forming that view the agencies must have regard to the consistency in content and context of the information being matched.
- (3) Where those confirmation procedures do not take the form of checking the results against the source information, but instead involve direct communication with the individual affected, the agency that seeks to rely on the discrepancy as a basis for action in respect of an individual must notify the individual affected that no check has been made against the information which formed the basis for the information supplied for the programme.
- (4) Every notification in accordance with subclause (3) must include an explanation of the procedures that are involved in the examination of a discrepancy revealed by the programme.

5 Destruction of information

- (1) In this clause, information matching information means—

- (a) information that is disclosed to an agency under an information matching provision for use in an authorised information matching programme; and
 - (b) information that is produced from an authorised information matching programme.
- (2) Information matching information held by an agency that does not reveal a discrepancy must be destroyed as soon as practicable by the agency.
 - (3) An agency that holds information matching information that reveals a discrepancy must destroy that information within 60 working days after becoming aware of the discrepancy unless the agency decides to take adverse action against any individual on the basis of that discrepancy.
 - (4) An agency that decides to take adverse action against any individual on the basis of a discrepancy must destroy the information as soon as practicable after the information is no longer required.
 - (5) This clause does not apply in relation to the Inland Revenue Department.

6 No new databank

- (1) Subject to subclauses (2) and (3), the agencies involved in an authorised information matching programme must not permit the information used in the programme to be linked or merged in such a way that a new separate permanent register or databank of information is created about all or any of the individuals whose information has been subject to the programme.
- (2) Subclause (1) does not prevent an agency from maintaining a register of individuals in respect of whom further inquiries are warranted following a discrepancy revealed by the programme, but information relating to an individual may be maintained on a register of that kind only for so long as is necessary to enable those inquiries to be carried out, and in no case longer than is necessary to enable any adverse action to be taken against an individual.
- (3) Subclause (1) does not prevent an agency from maintaining a register for the purpose of excluding individuals from being selected for investigation, but that register may contain only the minimum amount of information necessary for that purpose.
