Recalling further section I.A of its resolution 50/208 of 23 December 1995, by which it decided to defer consideration of the Noblemaire principle and its application and requested the International Civil Service Commission to review the recommendations and conclusions contained in chapter III.A of its twenty-first annual report,⁶ taking into account the views expressed by Member States at the fiftieth session of the General Assembly, in particular regarding the appropriateness of the reduction of dominance and the treatment of bonuses in determining net remuneration comparisons,

1. Reconfirms the continued application of the Noblemaire principle;

Recalling further section VIII of its resolution 46/191 A of 20 December 1991, by which the Commission was invited to pursue, as a matter of priority, its review of merit systems and performance appraisal in the United Nations common system as a vehicle for enhancing productivity and cost-effectiveness, as well as section VII of its resolution 49/223 of 23 December 1994,

1. Decides that the net remuneration margin methodology without the modifications in paragraph 119 (b) (ii) and (iii) of the twenty-first annual report of the International Civil Service Commission⁶ should continue to apply;

2. Reaffirms that the range of 110 to 120, with a desirable mid-point of 115, for the margin between net remuneration of officials in the Professional and higher categories of the United Nations in New York and officials in comparable positions in the United States federal civil service should continue to apply, on the understanding that the margin would be maintained at a level around the desirable mid-point of 115 over a period of time;

3. Notes that the margin between net remuneration of officials in the Professional and higher categories of the United Nations in New York and that of officials in comparable positions in the United States federal civil service for 1996, on the basis of its decision in paragraph 1 above, is 114.6;

5. Reiterates its request contained in section I.A., paragraph 4, of its resolution 50/208 that organizations should collect data to substantiate the recruitment and retention problems they face in respect of certain specialized occupations, and that the Commission should make recommendations for the implementation of special occupational rates as appropriate;

6. Requests the Secretary-General to make operational proposals to the General Assembly by 1 October 1997, for its consideration at its fifty-second session, on the possibility of introducing a system of performance awards or bonuses, in the context of the performance appraisal system, to a limited number of staff in recognition of their outstanding performance and specific achievements in a given year;

7. Invites the executive heads of the organizations of the United Nations common system to develop and submit proposals to their relevant intergovernmental bodies, as a matter of priority, on the possibility of introducing performance awards or bonuses to a limited number of staff in recognition of their outstanding performance and specific achievements in a given year, and to coordinate, to the extent possible, these proposals with those developed by the Secretary-General;

1. Requests the Secretary-General of the United Nations and the executive heads of the organizations of the common system to take such measures and make such proposals as they consider appropriate in order to end such practices;
2. Requests all organizations to issue or reissue, as appropriate, instructions to staff regarding the unacceptability of receiving supplementary payments;

Recalling further its request in section I.B, paragraph 2, of its resolution 50/208, regarding the establishment in 1996, in respect of staff members whose duty station is Geneva, of a single post adjustment index which is fully representative of the cost of living of all staff working in the duty station and which ensures equality of treatment with staff in other headquarters duty stations,

1. Endorses the decision of the International Civil Service Commission regarding the out-of-area expenditure weights as contained in paragraph 188 of its report,¹ and requests the Commission to continue to monitor this issue and to report to the General Assembly as appropriate;
2. Notes the introduction, with effect from 1 March 1997, of minimum out-of-area expenditure weights in the calculation of post adjustment indices, as contained in paragraph 188 of the report of the Commission;
3. Reiterates its request to the Commission urgently to complete its study regarding the methodology for establishing a single post adjustment index for Geneva, and to complete the study needed to implement the single post adjustment at the earliest date, and no later than 1 January 1998;

1. Approves, with effect from 1 January 1997, an increase of 7.98 per cent in the children's allowance (including that for disabled children) and in the secondary dependant's allowance;

II

GENERAL SERVICE AND OTHER LOCALLY RECRUITED CATEGORIES

Recalling that, in section XIV of its resolution 45/241 of 21 December 1990, the General Assembly had requested the International Civil Service Commission to consider, inter alia, the relativities between the terms and conditions of service of staff in the Professional and higher categories and those in other categories,

Recalling also section III, paragraph 1, of its resolution 47/216, in which it endorsed the reaffirmation by the Commission of the Flemming principle as the basis for determining the conditions of service of the General Service and related categories,

1. Notes the preparations undertaken for the 1997 review of the methodologies for the surveys of the best prevailing local conditions of employment at headquarters and non-headquarters duty stations;

2. Urges the representatives of staff to participate fully in the working groups of the International Civil Service Commission in its review of the salary survey methodologies;

3. Requests the Commission, as part of its review of the methodology for salary setting for staff in the General Service and other locally recruited categories:

(b) To study the feasibility of increasing the weight of public-sector employers in the salary surveys at headquarters duty stations;

(c) To submit a report based on the review of the methodology to the General Assembly at its fifty-second session;

4. Also requests the Commission to defer a final decision on the General Service salary setting methodology pending the review of the application of the Flemming principle by the General Assembly at its fifty-second session and to adjust its programme of headquarters salary surveys as appropriate;

5. Decides that the requests contained in section I.C. above, paragraphs 6, 7 and 8, shall also apply in respect of staff in the General Service and other locally recruited categories;

III

Recalling that, in section I, paragraph 4, of its resolution 48/225 of 23 December 1993, it approved the procedure in paragraph 44 of the nineteenth annual report of the International Civil Service Commission⁹ for determining the common staff assessment scale, with two separate sets of rates (single and dependent), and recalling also that, in paragraph 5 of its resolution 48/225, it requested the Commission, in close cooperation with the United Nations Joint Staff Pension Board, as part of the comprehensive review of the methodology for determining the scale of pensionable remuneration of staff in the Professional and higher categories scheduled for 1996, to develop a common staff assessment scale for the determination of the pensionable remuneration of all categories of staff using the above-mentioned procedure and reflecting the latest available tax rates,

Noting with satisfaction that the close cooperation between the Commission and the Board has resulted in agreement between the two bodies, inter alia, on the methodology and its application for the common staff assessment scale for all categories of staff, as reflected in their respective reports,

Noting that the Commission, in accordance with article 10 (d) of its statute, has developed the common staff assessment scale for pensionable remuneration purposes contained in annex IV to the report of the Commission,¹ taking into account the views of the United Nations Joint Staff Pension Board set out in paragraphs 152 to 159 of its report,¹⁰ and the considerations set out in paragraphs 83 to 89 of the report of the Commission,¹
