Who, after communicating to each other their respective full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed upon the following articles :—

Article I

There shall be perpetual peace and everlasting amity between the Republic of India and the Republic of the Philippines and their peoples.

Article II

Should any dispute arise between the two High Contracting Parties which cannot satisfactorily be adjusted by diplomacy, or through mediation or arbitration, the Parties shall not use force for settlement, but shall refer the dispute to the International Court of Justice for final adjudication. This undertaking shall not however apply to disputes relating to matters which are essentially within the domestic jurisdiction of one of the High Contracting Parties. If the Parties cannot agree as to whether the dispute is international in character or is exclusively within the domestic jurisdiction of one of the High Contracting Parties, the question of jurisdiction shall be submitted for decision to the International Court of Justice, unless the parties agree to have the question decided by other means.

Consular officers of each of the High Contracting Parties shall, after entering upon their duties, enjoy reciprocally in the territory of the Other all the rights, privileges, exemptions and immunities which are accorded to officers of their status and rank in accordance with the generally accepted principles of international law and usage.

Article V

The nationals of each of the High Contracting Parties within the territories of the Other shall be permitted to enjoy reciprocally the right to acquire, possess and dispose of movable and immovable property, to travel, to reside and to engage in trade, industry and other peaceful and lawful pursuits, subject always to the constitution, laws and regulations promulgated, or which may hereafter be promulgated by the Other.

Article VI

The High Contracting Parties agree to conclude as soon as practicable a comprehensive treaty or treaties of commerce and navigation, consular right and privileges, copyrights and patents and all other matters of common interest to both the parties.
