No. 5062. TRADE AGREEMENT¹ BETWEEN THE GOVERNMENT OF NEW ZEALAND AND THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED KINGDOM OF GREAT BRITAIN AND NORTHERN IRELAND. SIGNED AT WELLINGTON, ON 12 AUGUST 1959

The Government of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland (hereinafter referred to as the United Kingdom Government) and the Government of New Zealand (hereinafter referred to as the New Zealand Government) having resolved to replace the Agreement between them signed at Ottawa on 20th August, 1932, as modified and supplemented by the Agreement between them signed at London on 28th May, 1957, except so far as is otherwise provided in this Agreement, have agreed as follows :

In this Agreement—

“ New Zealand goods ” means goods grown, produced or manufactured in New Zealand which are entitled, on importation into the United Kingdom, to Commonwealth preference, and excludes goods grown, produced or manufactured in the Cook Islands (including Niue), the Tokelau Islands and the Trust Territory of Western Samoa;

“ United Kingdom goods ” or “ goods of any dependent territory for the international relations of which the United Kingdom Government are responsible ” means goods grown, produced or manufactured in the United Kingdom or in such a territory which are entitled, on importation into New Zealand, to admission under the British Preferential Tariff;

“ an active trade interest ” in goods means that traders in the United Kingdom or New Zealand, as the case may be, can at the time of any proposed tariff change be shown—

- (a) to have contracted to export such goods in more than token quantities to the other country during the two years immediately preceding that time; or
 - (b) to be incurring more than nominal expense on endeavouring to promote a trade in such goods with the other country;
- “ margin of preference ” means
- (a) in the case of New Zealand goods the difference between the rates at which Customs duties are charged on such goods on their importation into the United Kingdom and the rates at which Customs duties are charged on like goods of any country whose goods are not entitled to Commonwealth preference; and

- (b) in the case of United Kingdom goods or goods of any dependent territory for the international relations of which the United Kingdom Government are responsible the difference between the rates at which Customs duties are charged on such goods on their importation into New Zealand and the rates at which Customs duties are charged on like goods of the most favoured nation whose goods are not admissible at preferential rates of duty; and where a margin of preference is provided for in this Agreement on an ad valorem basis, and duty on goods is imposed by reference to some criterion other than value, any question whether or not that margin is being maintained shall be determined by calculating the difference between the ad valorem incidence of the duty on such goods imported during a previous representative trading period from the country to which the margin of preference is accorded and the ad valorem incidence of the duty on like goods imported in the same period from all countries whose goods are admitted at most-favoured-nation rates.

Article 1

The United Kingdom Government and the New Zealand Government reaffirm the principle of maintaining mutually advantageous tariff preferences and declare their resolve to facilitate and extend commercial relations between their respective countries.

Article 2

The United Kingdom Government undertake to maintain the entry free of duty (other than revenue duty) of New Zealand goods which were, at 25th November, 1958, free of duty (other than revenue duty). This undertaking shall not apply to goods in which there is no active New Zealand trade interest.

Article 3

The United Kingdom Government undertake to accord to the New Zealand goods listed in Schedule A¹ margins of preference not lower than those specified in that Schedule.

Article 4

The United Kingdom Government undertake to consult the New Zealand Government before reducing margins of preference which exceed the margins specified in Schedule A, or which are accorded to New Zealand goods not listed in that Schedule. This undertaking shall not apply to goods in which there is no active New Zealand trade interest.

Article 5

The United Kingdom Government undertake that until 31st May, 1967, they will admit, without restriction of quantity, imports of the following New Zealand goods, namely, butter, cheese, skim and butter milk powders, casein, and chilled and frozen pork.

Article 6

1. The New Zealand Government undertake, except in respect of goods in which there is no active United Kingdom trade interest or on which no margin of preference was accorded at 25th November, 1958, to accord minimum margins of preference of—

(a) 5 per cent ad valorem on the United Kingdom goods specified in Schedule B,¹

(b) 7½ per cent ad valorem on the United Kingdom goods specified in Schedule C,² and

(c) 10 per cent ad valorem on all other United Kingdom goods;

except that, on United Kingdom goods on which the margin of preference accorded at 25th November, 1958, was lower than that otherwise required under this paragraph, the minimum margin of preference shall be such lower margin. Nothing in this paragraph shall, however, prevent the remission, reduction or temporary suspension of duty on any goods in accordance with the provisions of Article 7 of this Agreement.

2. The New Zealand Government undertake to consult the United Kingdom Government before reducing any margins of preference which exceed the minimum margins required under paragraph 1 of this Article except :

(a) in respect of the goods listed in Schedules B and C; or

(b) where such reduction follows a specific recommendation of any body constituted by the New Zealand Government to advise regarding the tariff; or

(c) where there is no active United Kingdom trade interest.

² See p. 184 of this volume.

Article 7

1. Notwithstanding the provisions of Article 6 of this Agreement the New Zealand Government may remit, reduce or temporarily suspend duty on goods on importation into New Zealand :

- (a) under section 12 of the Customs Amendment Act 1921, section 11 of the Customs Amendment Act 1927, section 14 of the Customs Acts Amendment Act 1930, or analogous provisions of New Zealand legislation; or
- (b) by classification of goods under Tariff Item 448 (3) or analogous items of the New Zealand Customs Tariff.

2. The New Zealand Government agree that when such remission, reduction or temporary suspension would have the effect of eliminating or reducing a margin of preference required under Article 6 of this Agreement, they will consult or inform the United Kingdom Government in accordance with such procedures as may from time to time be agreed between the two Governments and will take into account any representations which the United Kingdom Government may make. This undertaking shall not limit the right of the New Zealand Government to act in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 1 of this Article.

Article 8

1. The New Zealand Government undertake that—

- (a) protection by tariffs shall be afforded only to those industries which are reasonably assured of sound opportunities for success;
- (b) the New Zealand Customs Tariff shall be based on the principle that protective duties shall not exceed such a level as will give United Kingdom producers full opportunity of reasonable competition on the basis of the relative cost of economical and efficient production, provided that in the application of that principle special consideration may be given to industries not fully established or to industries essential for defence purposes;
- (c) United Kingdom producers shall be entitled to full rights of audience before any body constituted by the New Zealand Government to advise regarding the Customs Tariff when it has under consideration matters arising under sub-paragraph (b) of this paragraph.

2. The provisions of sub-paragraph (b) of paragraph 1 of this Article shall not prevent the imposition of any rate of duty which the New Zealand Government may decide is necessary to protect New Zealand producers from the competition of goods imported from most-favoured-nation countries. In such cases the duty on like goods when imported from the United Kingdom shall be fixed at the lowest level consistent with New Zealand's obligations under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.¹

Article 9

The New Zealand Government undertake that the primage duty of 3 per cent ad valorem levied at 25th November, 1958, on certain United Kingdom goods will not be increased, and will be abolished as soon as financial conditions permit.

Article 10

1. Full consultation between the United Kingdom Government and the New Zealand Government shall, as provided in this Article, take place in respect of their agricultural production and marketing policies, the food import policy of the United Kingdom Government and other related matters. The two Governments will in each year exchange statements of agricultural production trends; and each will give full weight to the views of the other in the formulation of their production, marketing and import policies relating to agriculture.

2. For the purpose of giving effect to the provisions of paragraph 1 of this Article, representatives of the two Governments will meet in November of each year. Arrangements will also be made at the request of either Government to hold additional meetings at any time for the purpose of joint consultation.

Article 11

1. The United Kingdom Government and the New Zealand Government recognise the value of the review of meat market prospects carried out quarterly by the Commonwealth Meat Study Group and it is the intention of both Governments to continue to facilitate the work of this Group in order to afford a continuing opportunity for assessing market prospects for meat.

2. If in the opinion of the New Zealand Government circumstances arise which threaten serious injury to New Zealand's meat trade the United Kingdom Government will be ready to consult with the New Zealand Government and to consider sympathetically any request by the New Zealand Government for the application of such remedial measures as may be appropriate.

Article 12

The provisions of the Agreement between the United Kingdom and New Zealand Governments signed at Ottawa on 20th August, 1932, are not affected by this Agreement insofar as they relate to the import of meat into the United Kingdom.

Article 13

The United Kingdom Government and the New Zealand Government recognise that industries in each country engaged in trade with the other country may be materially injured by the competition of dumped or subsidised exports from third countries. They agree, if after consultation it is established that such injury is being caused or threatened, to consider taking action consistent with their own legislation and with their international obligations to remedy the injury or prevent the threatened injury.

Article 14

1. The New Zealand Government undertake, on a basis of reciprocity, and until such time as discussions regarding new reciprocal tariff arrangements are held between the New Zealand Government and the United Kingdom Government (in consultation as necessary with the Governments of the territories concerned), to continue to accord to the goods of the dependent territories for the international relations of which the United Kingdom Government are responsible, the tariff preferences accorded pursuant to Schedule E of the Agreement between the United Kingdom and New Zealand Governments signed at Ottawa on 20th August, 1932, and any other tariff preferences from time to time accorded by the New Zealand Government to like United Kingdom goods.

2. The United Kingdom Government will invite the Governments of the dependent territories for the international relations of which the United Kingdom Government are responsible to continue, until such time as the discussions referred to in paragraph 1 of this Article are held, to accord to New Zealand goods the tariff preferences from time to time accorded by them to like goods of any other Commonwealth country.

Article 15

1. The New Zealand Government will invite the Governments or Administrations of the Cook Islands (including Niue), the Tokelau Islands and the Trust Territory of Western Samoa (in this Article referred to as "the territories") to continue to accord to United Kingdom goods tariff preferences not lower than those which they may from time to time accord to like goods of any other Commonwealth country.

2. The United Kingdom Government undertake, on a basis of reciprocity :
- (a) to maintain the entry free of duty (other than revenue duty) of the goods of the territories in any case where any territory has an active trade interest and the goods were, at 25th November, 1958, free of duty (other than revenue duty);
 - (b) in relation to the goods of the territories :
 - (i) to continue to accord to copra a margin of preference not lower than 10 per cent ad valorem;
 - (ii) to consult the New Zealand Government (in consultation as necessary with the Government or Administration of the territory concerned) before reducing the margins of preference, in operation at 25th November, 1958, on any other goods in which any territory has an active trade interest.
3. In this Article :
- (a) "active trade interest" and "margin of preference" have, in relation to goods of the territories, a meaning corresponding to that which they have, under this Agreement, in relation to New Zealand goods.
 - (b) "goods of the territories" means goods grown, produced or manufactured in the territories which are entitled, on importation into the United Kingdom, to Commonwealth preference.

Article 16

This Agreement shall not have effect in relation to any territory in the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland and accordingly, insofar as any provisions of the Agreement between the United Kingdom and New Zealand Governments signed at Ottawa on 20th August, 1932, may apply in relation to any such territory, they shall continue to be applicable until such time as their application may be terminated in accordance with that Agreement, or until other arrangements are made as a result of discussions between the New Zealand Government and the Government of the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland.

Article 17

The provisions of this Agreement do not affect the Agreement between the United Kingdom and New Zealand Governments signed at Ottawa on 20th August, 1932, insofar as any provisions of that Agreement may be in force between the New Zealand Government and the Government of Ceylon, the Government of Ghana, or the Government of the Federation of Malaya.

Article 18

The United Kingdom Government and the New Zealand Government recognise that there are matters not otherwise dealt with in this Agreement which may affect trade and commerce between the United Kingdom and New Zealand. They agree to consult together at any time, at the request of either, regarding any such matters.

Article 19

1. This Agreement shall be deemed to have come into force on 25th November, 1958, and, subject to the provisions of Articles 12, 16 and 17 of this Agreement, replaces the Agreement between the United Kingdom and New Zealand Governments signed at Ottawa on 20th August, 1932, and the Agreement between them signed at London on 28th May, 1957.

2. The two Governments agree to consult together, at the request of either, regarding the operation, application or amendment of this Agreement.

3. Either Government may at any time give to the other Government notice of intention to terminate this Agreement. In such case, this Agreement shall terminate upon the expiration of six months from the date on which the notice is received.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the undersigned, duly authorised by their respective Governments, have signed the present Agreement.

DONE in duplicate at Wellington this twelfth day of August one thousand nine hundred and fifty-nine.
