Excellency,

I have the honour to refer to conversations between representatives of the Government of Kuwait and representatives of the Government of the United States of America relating to the possibility of regulating the reciprocal granting of authorities to permit licenced amateur radio operators of either country to operate their stations in the other country, in accordance with the provisions of Article 41 of the International Radio Regulations, Geneva 1959.² The following provisions are proposed for such regulation :

(1) An individual who holds a valid licence and call sign from his Government as an amateur radio operator and who operates an amateur radio station licenced by such Government shall be permitted by the other Government, and on reciprocal basis and subject to the conditions stated below, to operate such station in the territory of such other Government.

(2) The individual who is holding a valid licence and call sign from his Government as an amateur radio operator shall, before being permitted to operate his station as provided for in paragraph 1, obtain from the appropriate administrative agency of the other Government an authorization for that purpose.

(3) The appropriate administrative agency of each Government may issue an authorization, as prescribed in paragraph 2, under such conditions and terms as it may prescribe, including the right of denial or cancellation at the convenience of the issuing Government at any time.

¹ Came into force on 19 July 1966, in accordance with the provisions of the said notes.

² United States of America: Treaties and other International Acts Series 4893.

If the Government of the United States concurs in the aforementioned provisions, it is proposed that this note and the reply note constitute an agreement between the two Governments to come into force as of today's date and to be subject to termination by either Government giving six months' notice, in writing, of its intention to do so.

Accept, Excellency, the assurance of my highest consideration.
