TRADE AND ECONOMIC CO-OPERATION AGREEMENT¹ BETWEEN THE PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA AND THE EUROPEAN ECONOMIC COMMUNITY

The Government of the People's Republic of China,
The Council of the European Communities,

Noting with satisfaction the development of friendly relations between the European Economic Community and the People's Republic of China,

Considering that the Trade Agreement between the European Economic Community and the People's Republic of China, signed on 3 April 1978,² has been satisfactorily applied,

Inspired by their common will to introduce a new stage into their commercial and economic relations,

Desiring, on the basis of equality and mutual advantage, to intensify and diversify their trade and actively develop economic and technical co-operation in line with their mutual interests,

Have decided to conclude this agreement, the terms of which are as follows:

Article 1. The two Contracting Parties will endeavour, within the framework of their respective existing laws and regulations, and in accordance with the principles of equality and mutual advantage:

- To promote and intensify trade between them;
- To encourage the steady expansion of economic co-operation.

Chapter I. TRADE CO-OPERATION

Article 2. The two Contracting Parties confirm their determination:

- a) To take all appropriate measures to create favourable conditions for trade between them;
- b) To do their utmost to improve the structure of their trade in order to diversify it further;
- c) To examine, each for its own part and in a spirit of goodwill, any suggestions made by the other Party, in particular in the Joint Committee, for the purpose of facilitating trade between them.

Article 3. 1. In their trade relations, the two Contracting Parties shall accord each other most-favoured-nation treatment in all matters regarding:

- a) Customs duties and charges of all kinds applied to the import, export, re-export, or transit of products, including the procedures for the collection of such duties or charges;
- b) Regulations, procedures and formalities concerning customs clearance, transit, warehousing and trans-shipment of products imported or exported;

¹ Came into force on 1 October 1985, i.e., the first day of the month following the date of the last of the notifications (effected on 16 and 25 September 1985) by which the Contracting Parties had informed each other of the completion of the legal procedures, in accordance with article 18.

² United Nations, Treaty Series, vol. 1540, No. 1-26710.

- c) Taxes and other internal charges levied directly or indirectly on products or services imported or exported;
- d) Administrative formalities for the issue of import or export licences.

2. Paragraph 1 shall not apply in the case of:

- a) Advantages accorded by either Contracting Party to States which together with it are members of a customs union or free trade area;
- b) Advantages accorded by either Contracting Party to neighbouring countries for the purpose of facilitating border trade;
- c) Measures which either Contracting Party may take in order to meet its obligations under international commodity agreements.

Article 4. The two Contracting Parties will make every effort to foster the harmonious expansion of their reciprocal trade and to help, each by its own means, to attain a balance in such trade.

Should an obvious imbalance arise, the matter must be examined within the Joint Committee so that measures can be recommended in order to improve the situation.

Article 5. 1. The People's Republic of China will give favourable consideration to imports from the European Economic Community. To this end, the competent Chinese authorities will ensure that Community exporters have the possibility of participating fully in opportunities for trade with China.

2. The European Economic Community will strive for an increasing liberalization of imports from the People's Republic of China. To this end it will endeavour progressively to introduce measures extending the list of products for which imports from China have been liberalized and to increase the amounts of quotas. The procedure for implementation will be examined within the framework of the Joint Committee.

Article 6. 1. The two Contracting Parties shall exchange information on any problems that may arise with regard to their trade and shall open friendly consultations, with the intention of promoting trade, for the purpose of seeking mutually satisfactory solutions to those problems. Each of the two Contracting Parties will ensure that no action is taken before consultations are held.

2. In an exceptional case, however, where the situation does not admit any delay, either Contracting Party may take measures, but must endeavour as far as possible to hold friendly consultations before doing so.

3. Each Contracting Party will ensure that when it takes the measures referred to in paragraph 2, the general objectives of this Agreement are not prejudiced.

Article 7. The two Contracting Parties undertake to promote visits by persons, groups and delegations from economic, trade and industrial circles, to facilitate industrial and technical exchanges and contacts connected with trade and to foster the organization of fairs and exhibitions by both sides and the relevant provision of services. As far as possible, they must grant each other the necessary facilities for the above activities.

Article 8. Trade in goods and the provision of services between the two Contracting Parties shall be effected at market-related prices and rates.

Article 9. The two Contracting Parties agree that payments for transactions shall be made, in accordance with their respective existing laws and regulations, in currencies of the Member States of the Community, Renminbi or any convertible currency accepted by the two parties concerned in the transactions.

Chapter II. ECONOMIC CO-OPERATION

Article 10. Within the limits of their respective competence, and with the main aims of encouraging the development of industry and agriculture in the European Economic Community and in the People's Republic of China, of diversifying their economic links, encouraging scientific and technological progress, opening up new sources of supply and new markets, helping to develop their economies and raise their respective standards of living, the two Contracting Parties agree to develop economic co-operation in all the spheres subject to common accord, and in particular:

- Industry and mining;
- Agriculture, including agro-industry;
- Science and technology;
- Energy;
- Transport and communication;
- Environmental protection;
- Co-operation in third countries.

Article 11. According to their needs and within the means at their disposal the two Contracting Parties shall encourage the application of the various forms of industrial and technical co-operation, for the benefit of their undertakings or organizations.

In order to attain the objectives of this Agreement, the two Contracting Parties shall endeavour to facilitate and promote, among other activities:

- Joint production and joint ventures;
- Common exploitation;
- The transfer of technology;
- Co-operation between financial institutions;
- Visits, contacts and activities designed to promote co-operation between individuals, delegations and economic organizations;
- The organization of seminars and symposia;
- Consultancy services;
- Technical assistance, including the training of staff;
- A continuous exchange of information relevant to commercial and economic co-operation.

Article 12. 1. In order to attain the objectives of this Agreement, the two Contracting Parties shall agree, within the framework of their respective laws, rules and policies, to promote and encourage greater and mutually beneficial investment.

2. In addition, the Parties undertake to improve the existing favourable investment climate, in particular through encouraging the extension, by and to the Member States of the Community and by and to the People's Republic of China, of investment promotion and protection arrangements based on the principles of equity and reciprocity.

Article 13. In view of the difference in the two Contracting Parties' levels of development, the European Economic Community is prepared, within the context of its development aid activities, within the means at its disposal and in accordance with its rules, to continue its development activities in China.

It confirms its willingness to examine the possibility of stepping up and diversifying these activities.

Article 14. Without prejudice to the relevant provisions of the Treaties establishing the European Communities, this Agreement and any action taken thereunder shall in no way affect the powers of any of the Member States of the Communities to undertake bilateral activities with the People's Republic of China in the field of economic co-operation and conclude, where appropriate, new economic co-operation agreements with the People's Republic of China.

Chapter III. JOINT COMMITTEE

Article 15. 1. The two Contracting Parties shall set up, under this Trade and Economic Co-operation Agreement, a Joint Committee comprising representatives of the European Economic Community on the one hand and representatives of the People's Republic of China on the other.

2. The tasks of the Joint Committee shall be as follows:

- To monitor and examine the functioning of this Agreement and review the various co-operation schemes implemented;
- To examine any questions that may arise in the implementation of this Agreement;
- To examine problems that could hinder the development of trade and economic co-operation between the two Contracting Parties;
- To examine means and new opportunities of developing trade and economic co-operation;
- To make recommendations that may help to attain the objectives of this Agreement, in the areas of common interest.

3. The Joint Committee shall meet once a year, in Brussels and Beijing alternately. Extraordinary meetings may be convened by mutual agreement, at the request of either Contracting Party. The office of chairman of the Joint Committee shall be held by each of the two Contracting Parties in turn. Where both Parties consider it necessary, the Joint Committee may set up working parties to assist it in its work.

Chapter IV. FINAL PROVISIONS

Article 16. As far as the European Economic Community is concerned, this Agreement shall apply to the territories in which the Treaty establishing the European Economic Community is applied and under the conditions laid down in that Treaty.

Article 17. This Agreement replaces the Trade Agreement between the European Economic Community and the People's Republic of China of 3 April 1978, which entered into force on 1 June 1978.

Article 18. This Agreement shall enter into force on the first day of the month following the date on which the Contracting Parties have notified each other of the completion of the legal procedures necessary for this purpose. It is concluded for a period of five years. The Agreement shall be tacitly renewed from year to year provided that neither Contracting Party notifies the other Party in writing of its denunciation of the Agreement six months before the date of expiry.

However, the Agreement may be amended by mutual consent of the two Contracting Parties in order to take account of new situations.
