If one Party wishes to apply this provision, it shall notify the other Parties concerned accordingly.

They shall also, if need be, give them additional training and shall supply them with the minimum of equipment needed for carrying out their field work.

Article 5. The Government of the Togolese Republic shall provide European volunteers for development with the assistance necessary for the performance of their duties. It shall afford them aid and protection.

It shall, inter alia, grant immunity from prosecution for any acts committed or words spoken or written in connection with the performance of a duty assigned to them under this Agreement.

It shall assume responsibility for compensating damage attributable to them in connection with the performance of any duty assigned to them under this Agreement, and shall undertake not to institute legal proceedings against them except for fraud or serious professional misconduct jointly acknowledged by the parties concerned.

The Governments concerned shall supply the Government of the Togolese Republic with whatever information or other assistance it may require to deal with a case in accordance with this article.

Article 6. The allowances paid to European volunteers for development by the Governments of the French Republic and the Federal Republic of Germany, or by the competent bodies, shall not constitute a salary. The Government of the Togolese Republic shall exempt European volunteers for development from all taxes and dues relating to such allowances.

Article 7. The Government of the Togolese Republic shall give European volunteers for development assigned to it the same entitlement to medical, dental and hospital care as is available to permanent members of the Togolese civil service and under the same conditions.

The Government or agency of origin may also recall a European volunteer for development after consultation with the authorities utilizing the volunteer's services.

Volunteers shall be bound by the obligation to exercise Article 11. professional discretion in all matters relating to facts or information to which they become privy in the performance of their duties.

They shall refrain from any act which might be detrimental to the Government or agency utilizing their services.
